A report comes from Washington that some of the strongest opposition to the President's Cuban policy comes from Senators who pretend to be his friends but are opposing him in an underhand way.

Senator Hanna resents the insinuation that he is influenced by the Pacific railways in opposing the Nicaragua Canal. He wants it understood that when there is any bossing to be done he does it himself.

LOCAL DOTS.

— Schooner Harold B. Cousens cleared yesterday with cargo from the Chadbourn Lumber Co., for Boston, Mass.

— Mr. W. H. Stone, of Shallotte, one of the foremost growers of Brunswick, sends the STAR a cotton bloom plucked from his fields on June 16th.

— Mr. W. M. Cumming, Wilmington's live real estate agent, advertises valuable city residence property for sale and also a handsome cottage on Wrightsville Beach.

— An extra session of the Grand Lodge of Masons is called for June 24th at Oxford for the purpose of considering the matter of erecting a large Masonic temple, to cost upwards of $100,000.

— On account of a delay at the factory from which the handsome fixtures were ordered, the Murchison National Bank will not move into its new quarters at Front and Chesnut streets until September 1st.

— The notice recently published in the STAR from President Winston stated that the examination for admission to the A. & M. College will be held Tuesday, July 10th. It should have read Thursday, July 10th.

— Mr. M. G. McKenzie, editor of the Maxton Scottish Chief, sends the STAR two cotton blooms plucked on the 15th inst. from a 90-acre field of very fine cotton belonging to Mr. R. McNair, near Maxton.

— Messrs. W. S. and D. M. Partrick, of Clinton, will run an excursion from their town and intervening points as far as Burgaw to Wilmington and return on June 26th. The fare is only $1 and a large crowd is expected.

— Timmonsville Enterprise: "The first excursion of the season will probably be run by the Timmonsville, S. C., Guards to Wilmington and the seashore some time between the 1st and 15th of July. Arrangements are now being made for the trip."

REWARD FOR SALISBURY LYNCHERS!

Governor Offers $400 Each for Arrest of Party—Furniture Co. Chartered.

[Special Star Telegram.]

RALEIGH, N. C., June 18.—Governor Aycock to-day issued a proclamation offering $400 reward each for the participants in the lynching of Harrison and James Gillespie, negro boys, respectively sixteen and ten years, at Salisbury, June 10th for brutally killing Miss Benson. It is estimated that seventy-five men took part in the lynching and that being the case the rewards would aggregate $30,000. Solicitor Hamner, of the Salisbury Judicial District, says he has the names of several lynchers already.

The Governor in a statement issued tonight calls on all good citizens to join in suppressing the crime of lynching. He says we can't see to what extremes it is leading. The Gillespie boys were not guilty of the crime for which lynching is usually done in the South and were in the hands of the law, awaiting a speedy trial. Mob law, he declares, must be put down at any cost.

The Selma Furniture Company of Selma, was chartered to-day with $12,000 capital.

Dr. G. Kirby Collier.

A telegram from Dr. G. Kirby Collier yesterday stated that he had successfully passed the State Board of Medical Examiners of Virginia at Richmond this week. Dr. Collier now has license to practice medicine in three States—North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland—he having stood the latter board several years ago. Dr. Collier is one of Wilmington's most prominent young physicians and his success before the various boards will be welcome news to many friends here.

Aldermen in Caucus.

A caucus of all members of the Board of Aldermen, lasting from 8 to 10.30 o'clock, was held in the Mayor's office at the City Hall last night. It is learned that Mayor Wsddell was not present, though nothing was given out for publication. It is further learned that the meeting was to pass upon the applications for liquor license and to consider the matter of a successor to Alderman E P. Bailey, resigned, from Fourth ward.

Building the Trolley Line.

A force of linemen yesterday began work in stringing the span wires for the trolley line to the beach and work will be pushed until the job is completed. The poles are now practically all up to the beach and from present indications Wilmington people will have an opportunity of taking a trolley ride to Delgado next Sunday.

Boys' Brigade Excursion.

The Boys' Brigade and a large number of their friends enjoyed a pleasant outing on Carolina Beach yesterday. Two boats left for the Beach at 5 and 7:45 P. M. and carried down large crowds of pleasure seekers. There was dancing at Sedgeley Hall Club house until a late hour. The last boat reached the city past midnight.

THE TRUCK GROWERS

Sixth Annual Meeting of the E. C. F. & T. G. Association Held Here Yesterday.

THE ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Mr. H. T. Bauman, the Shipping Agent, Presented a Well Prepared Report Giving Interesting and Valuable Statistics of Shipments.

The sixth annual meeting of the East Carolina Fruit and Truck Growers' Association was held in the Court House, this city, yesterday, President W. L. Hill, of Warsaw, presiding, and a goodly number of the stockholders in attendance.

Morning and afternoon sessions were held, but the business transacted was principally of a routine and private character. The Executive Committee and Board of Directors had held previous sessions and had the business in good shape to come before the general meeting. The morning session was entirely taken up with a hearing of the reports of officers and those of the directors and Executive Committee. The year's business was settled in a most satisfactory and harmonious manner.

At the afternoon session, which began at 2 o'clock with an increased attendance, the Association elected the following Board of Directors to serve for the ensuing year: J. A. Westbrook, Mount Olive; J. B. Oliver, Mount Olive; I. L. Faison, Faison; W. L. Hill, Warsaw; D. W. Fussell, Rose Hill; B. F. Fussell, Teachey's; J. S. Westbrook, Wallace; J. H. Moore, Burgaw; Dr. E. Porter, Rocky Point; W. E. Springer, Wilmington; H. T. Bauman, Wilmington; W. E. Thigpen, Chadbourn; M. F. Leonhart, Chadbourn; H. L. Struthers, Grists; S. H. Strange, Fayetteville; Dr. Geo. F. Lucas, Currie.

The directors subsequently met and elected other officers as follows:

President—W. L. Hill, Warsaw.
Vice President—W. E. Springer, Wilmington.
Secretary—H. T. Bauman, Wilmington.
Treasurer—S. H. Strange, Fayetteville.
Executive Committee—W. L. Hill, Warsaw, (chairman); J. A. Westbrook, Mount Olive; J. S. Westbrook, Wallace; W. E. Thigpen, Chadbourn, and W. E. Springer, Wilmington.

The meeting adjourned at 4 P. M. and most of those in attendance left on the evening train for home. Ex-Judge W. R. Allen, counsel for the Association, was among those in attendance.

The Shipping Agent's Report.

One of the most interesting reports read at the meeting was that of Mr. H. T. Bauman, the clever and energetic shipping agent of the Association, who has done wonders towards making trucking profitable in Eastern Carolina. The year's work was carefully reviewed and presented in a most intelligible and satisfactory manner. His estimate of the acreage in November, 1901, was shown to have been practically correct, and the maximum figures of 400,000 crates would have been easily reached but for the drought and other causes. Extracts from the interesting report are as follows:

"The shipping commenced by Express April 16th, the first full crate moving from Rocky Point, the next from Montague on the 20th, and the next from Chadbourn on the 23d. First shipments by refrigerator cars from the W. and W. R. R. and Chadbourn section were simultaneous this season, both moving on April 26th. The movement from all sections this season was quick and snappy, consuming practically 27 days. The season opened a week earlier and closed 10 days sooner than last year.

"The weather and other conditions were favorable this season for picking and shipping, and every berry that was made was easily disposed of. The weevil, however, got in its work and played havoc with many fields. This evil coupled with the fact that last Fall's setting did not get fully rooted before the cold weather set in, and when the Spring opened the plants had the double duty to perform of making roots and berries and only partially succeeded when the intense cold weather of March, notably 17th and 18th, caused another back set, when blooms and berries were killed in great numbers. All these conditions operated to cut off the production.

"The record shows a shortage of between 12,000 and 15,000 crates from last year's shipments and this with the increase in the Chadbourn section of some 30,000 crates represents about the shortage on the W. & W. R. R. this season.

"The total number of crates shipped last year was 325,000; this year, about 310,000. Refrigerator shipments last season 268,298 crates; this season, 268,741. Number of refrigerator cars used last year, 1,122; this year 1,174. Average last year to the car, 240 crates; this year 229. Last season we went into 43 markets; this year 53 markets. The average sales on platforms amounted to about 40 per cent.

"The shipments on the Cannon Ball train, where the delivery was on time, were good and the results satisfactory. With few exceptions the shipments on the pick-up train, were very unsatisfactory. The delivery by Express was as bad as usual. * * * * The shipments by Express fell off some 10,000 crates this season.

"The extra train put on this season to move the shipments from the Chadbourn section was a success and came into So. Rocky Mt. promptly each day, arriving 10.30 A. M. The advantage gained by this train was a longer time to load and more time to re-ice cars at So. Rocky Mt. The movement was the same as last year. The volume of business from the Chadbourn section was a record breaker, showing some 150 cars in excess of last year. On the extra from Chadbourn on May 5th, 38 cars were moved and of these Chadbourn proper showed 25 from that point alone.

"The movement from the W. & W. was as follows: Mt. Olive, 225 cars, (May 12th, 36 cars); Wallace 103; Rose Hill, 88; Teacheys, 75; W. & W. R. R., 74; Warsaw, 58; Faison, 50; Rocky Point, 39; Burgaw, 36; Goshen Grove, 21; Clinton, 21; South Washington, 6; Ashton, 3; Magnolia, 2; Willard, 10; Dudley, 1.

"The service of the Fruit Growers' Express was a great improvement over last season, the supply of cars ample, and the ice situation safe. * * *

"We all recognize the general service of the A. C. L. refrigerator and express service as far as Richmond to have been good. Beyond that point it was the worst we have ever had in the way of despatch and prompt deliveries. I think these companies should have full credit for the service rendered this side of Richmond, as the record shows. * * * *

"The distribution was without question the most complete we have ever had.

"The establishment this year at Wilmington of a new and commodious ice plant by the Independent Ice Company was a new feature and added to the security of a full ice supply. The building of the new ice house at Mt. Olive by the Armour Co. greatly benefitted the shippers at that point in the proper loading and care of their berries.

"The success of our organization and the magnitude of our business has so impressed the S. A. L. R. R. Co., that a representative of that road approached me this Spring with the suggestion that it wanted a like organization, with some other features added, on their line, which would give their truckers encouragement in adding to their acreage and variety of crops; that the systematic and intelligent manner in which our Association handled this business was the key note to the success which we had attained and they would like me to take this in hand for them. As I informed this gentleman, my whole time, interest and pride was in perfecting as much as possible the organization of the E. C. T. & F. G. A. and looking to the success of all the growers in the territory where we operated, I could not in justice to them and myself effect this organization and therefore would have to decline."

Mr. Bauman's excellent report closes with thanks to the officers and Board of Directors of the Association for their many courtesies during the year and a suggestion that the annual meetings be held a little later, in order give time for the compilation of more extended and valuable statistics.

The First Cotton Blooms.

The first cotton blooms seen in Wilmington this season came yesterday to Mr. S. P. McNair, the well known wholesale grocer, from Mr. R. R. Royal, of Kelly's, Bladen county, N. C. They were plucked June 15th from a five acre tract belonging to Mr. Royal in French's Creek township. Mr. McNair placed the blooms on the Produce Exchange yesterday with this endorsement:

"Mr. Royal is evidently an upto-date farmer; plants his cotton crop early when land has sufficient moisture to bring him good stand and does not depend on the lazy man's theory that cotton planted first of May saves one working and picking during harvest."

Buried in Winston-Salem, N. C.

Winston Sentinel, 17th: "The remains of Mrs. DuBrutz Cutlar will be brought here for interment in the Salem Cemetery. They will leave Wilmington this evening and will arrive to-morrow morning. They will be accompanied by the mother, who has been with her daughter for more than a week, Miss Florence Slater, aunt of deceased, and husband, Mr. DuBrutz Cutlar. The funeral services will be conducted from St. Paul's Episcopal church at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning by Rev. Harris Mailinckrodt. At the request of Mrs. Cutlar, before her death, Mrs. Carter will bring the little daughter home with her.

In the Police Court.

In the municipal court yesterday Charley Pittman, white, was fined $20 or given 20 days on the roads for an alleged unprovoked assault upon Health Inspector S. L. Mann at Sixth and Castle streets. Peter Pearson, white, was required to pay the cost in a case against him for committing a nuisance on Fourth and Brunswick streets, and A. H. Murphy and J. R. Roberson were each required to pay the costs for an affray Tuesday night on Second between Market and Dock streets.

Here For Cotton Cargo.

The British steamer Whitehall, 1,313 tons, Capt. Heppell, arrived Tuesday evening, light, from Bermuda, and will receive a cargo of cotton from Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son. It is of rare occurrence that a big steamer comes so late in the season for a cargo, but the advanced prices the past month have brought a steady stream to the port, so that Messrs. Sprunt & Son found it necessary to get another steamer to take it across.

Moonlight Excursion To-night.

A delightful time is assured in the moonlight excursion to-night by the N. N. S. Society of Fifth Street M. E. church. The trip will be to the "Rocks" and return, leaving at 8 P. M., and the fare will be only 25 cents. There will be music and refreshments.

Improves Our Custom Service.

An Associated Press telegram from Washington says: "The Ways and Means Committee of the House to-day ordered a favorable report on a bill giving Wilmington, N. C., the privilege of immediate transportation of goods in bond."

South Carolina Excursion.

An excursion of between 300 and 400 people arrived at 10.15 o'clock yesterday morning from Marion, S. C. The excursion returned to Marion last night, after the party had spent a pleasant day in the city and at the beaches.

The funny man was persona non grata in yesterday's game, and that fact was brought rather forcibly to the attention of Mr. E. M. Ashenback, manager of the Charlotte team, which lost a beautiful struggle to Wilmington by the score of four runs to two.

The intended funny incident by the said Mr. Ashenback resulted in his being put out of the game by the umpire in the seventh inning and the loss of many friends in Wilmington, were he had heretofore reached some measure of popularity.

It happened in this way: Wilmington had things coming her way in a jiffy and the astute Ash was not in the most amiable frame of mind. The seventh inning opened with Cooper going out, third to first. Lehman, next up for Charlotte, made a drive between centre which was fielded so swiftly by McGinnis that the batter was retired at second on a beautiful throw. The play was so phenomenally fast that some of the Charlotte players were "guying" McGinnis about letting the ball in play go by and throwing in a dead ball to out Lehman. Weaver, for Charlotte, good-naturedly went in the diamond to look at the ball, and while Person, next up, was at the bat, John Bishop and several other Charlotte men went around the diamond toward centerfield to look for the ball, which they told McGinnis he had let go by and thrown in the dead ball. Although warned by some of his men on the bench, Ashenback got a ball and went down to the fence, laid it down and picked it up, as proving his case against McGinnis. In an instant the spectators in the grand stand and bleachers who had seen McGinnis field the ball clearly, went in almost unbroken ranks into the field. At this stage of the proceeding, Ashenback threw up his hands in "holy horror" and said he did it only in a joke. He was promptly put out of the game by Umpire Sherman, and until their dying day a majority of those who saw the game will never believe that jesting was Mr. Ashenback's original purpose. He was in bad odor with the spectators anyway, for he had just refused a runner to crippled Mathison, who was forced to play because of the unexpected jump of Delters yesterday morning to Marion, S. C. He also had some discouraging gab on the field about Wilmington, but he probably didn't remember just at the time that he would take from Wilmington a substantial amount above the guarantee from the series of three games here.

The game was a beautiful one and was won on its merits. Of the general team work and individual playing, reference is made elsewhere. With three men on bases a beautiful double from Lawson to Mathison retired the visitors in the third inning without a run, but in the next spasm the lonesome came on Graham's single, Fisher's error and a passed ball. The locals came back at 'em in the same inning and scored two on a bunch of hits by Dommel, McGinnis and Mathison. In the next a third tally came for the locals on a pass to Holland, and a two-base hit by Dommel to centre. In the eighth the fourth run came for the winners on a wild throw of Lehman to first, giving Lawson life and McGinnis' beautiful single to centre. The tabulated score gives the figures:

The Sting Taken Out of The Beautiful Hornets.

— It was "hot as love."

— The attendance reached 600.

— The G. O. C. F. was strictly in it."

— Karns, the kalm, kool and kollected.

— It was full of ginger and Tabasco sauce.

— Karns's slow curves took the very eyes out of the Hornets.

— One of the greatest games ever played on Hilton diamond.

— The horse editor says he wouldn't have missed it for thirty cents.

— Karns not only does his work in the box, but plays all over the infield.

— Whoops, yells and cheers greeted the fine work of the reconstructed Giants.

— The home boys left for Durham last evening with flying colors. Good luck to them.

— What Professor McGinnis calls "head work" was strongly exemplified by Karns.

— The Wilmington team left last night for Durham, and Charlotte went home to meet Raleigh.

— The patent sting extractor worked all right yesterday, and the Hornets will have to incubate another supply.

— It must have been a great relief to Ashenback to be put out of the game. He was much safer out of it than in it.

— Karns's performance in the box was magnificent. He jumped right into the affections of rooterinas and rooters alike.

— The rare and gradiant rooterinas made a great rally. Very seldom have so many of them been seen in the grand stand.

— Dommel's two-base hit carried Holland home from first, and McGinnis' hit in the fourth inning took Dommel over the plate from second.

— At the game of baseball at the park this afternoon between Raleigh and Charlotte music will be furnished by the Third Regiment Band, of Reidsville.

— Our new pitcher, "Deerfoot" Karns, gave the Hornets but four hits, while Wilmington got eight off Persons, one of the best pitchers in the league.

— Ashenback's ineffably disgusting refusal to allow Krause to run for Mathison cost Wilmington one run. Hisses and groans were fired at him from every direcion.

— Ashenback showed up in his true colors when he refused to allow a substitute to run for the crippled Mathison. It was as scurvy an act as was ever seen on a ball field.

— Baseball enthusiasm in Charlotte has reached such a pitch even among the negroes that a colored women's baseball club has been organized in Biddleville, the negro suburb of Charlotte.

— That ball trick attempted by Ashenback was another incident that showed his character as a ball player. No one credited his claim that it "was all in fun," and he was put out of the game for his petty meanness.

— Greensboro Record: "J. C. Drauby, of Harrisburg, Pa., has signed with the Greensboro team to play first base. Drauby played last year with Lancaster, Pa., until the Pennsylvania State League disbanded, then he went to the Shreveport, La., team. He is also remembered as first baseman for Charlotte last year."

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

— Mrs. S. N. McIntire has returned from Savannah, where she visited Mrs. E. M. Jones.

— Mrs. Bradley J. Wootten left yesterday morning for Farmville, N. C., on a visit to friends.

— Mr. Ed Alexander and wife spent Sunday at the home of his father Dr. L. L. Alexander, at Topsail Sound.

— Master Will W. Miller leaves this morning for a visit to his sisters in Memphis, Tenn., and Helena, Ark. He will be away about six weeks.

— Mr. Clarence E. Motte left yesterday for Bennetsville, S. C., to spend a few days with his brother, Mr. Arthur B. Motte.

— Miss Grace M. Hobday, who has been teaching in Wilmington, left yesterday for Norfolk to spend the Summer with her relatives.

— Mr. Dan. Quinlivan, Jr., returned yesterday from St. Mary's College, Belmont, to spend his Summer vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan. Quinlivan, Dock street.

The Morning Star.

BY WILLIAM H. BERNARD

WILMINGTON, N. C.

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 19.

TOO MUCH OF IT.

We are told by the defenders of the protective tariff that without it our manufacturing industries would never have made the marvellous progress they have made. Perhaps not, and perhaps it would have been better if they had not. A slower growth might have been a better growth and the more permanent, and the foundation for a more permanent and better distributed prosperity.

The defenders of the doctrine of protection for protection's sake practically admit this when they declare that notwithstanding this marvellous growth, and the still more marvellous growth of our exports of manufactures, protection is still necessary for the preservation of our industrial system, which would be seriously crippled if not ruined by the withdrawal of this protection, which means, logically, that this protection must be perpetual, for if our manufacturers and other protected interests cannot get along without it now they never can.

Admitting, for argument sake, without question, their claim that it was this protection which caused the rapid development of our manufacturing industries it is simply an illustration of over-stimulation, with a consequent surplus that the home market cannot consume, and therefore foreign markets have become necessary to take this surplus, which accounts for the rapid increase in our manufactured exports, and also, they say, for the lower prices at which these exported articles are sold in foreign markets. To some this might seem a plausible way to account for the rapid increase in our manufactured exports and for the lower prices asked in foreign markets.

But this will not bear sifting, for these manufacturers are exerting their energies to increase the output of their plants which already produce a surplus, and to increase their foreign business to dispose of the increased surplus. They produce a surplus on purpose and continue to increase their working capital, as the Steel Trust has recently done, to produce a still larger surplus. The logical inference from this is that there must be profit in the surplus and profit enough to make them exert their activities to add to this surplus and find new or greater markets for it abroad.

There are among the scores of manufactures shipped abroad, covering the range from a table fork to a locomotive, none that we know of that does not sell for less in foreign markets than in the home market—at from twenty-five to fifty per cent. less, and sometimes more. The European farmer can buy plows, cultivators, reapers, mowers, threshers or any other farm implement or machine for three-fourths, or less, of what the American has to pay for them. These manufacturers have agents in foreign countries working to introduce and sell their manufactures, and they are so anxious to increase this trade that they generally favor reciprocity as one of the ways of doing it.

And yet we are told it is the surplus they are shipping abroad, but if they were not making a satisfactory profit on it would they be anxious to increase it? Would they be such advocates of reciprocity, and so anxious for the restoration of an American merchant marine? If the profit on this business is large enough to spur them to extraordinary effort to constantly increase it, why should they charge the home purchaser of their manufactures so much more than they charge foreigners for the same articles? They have no favors in foreign markets and yet they boldly enter them in competition with the manufacturers of the world and undersell them, for if they didn't undersell them they couldn't take trade away from them.

If they can compete successfully with foreign manufacturers in the markets of the foreign countries why should they not be able to successfully compete in their home market? Why should they fear the foreign rival or why ask for protection? The conditions are being really reversed for it is the foreign manufacturer who is beginning to clamor for protection from the American manufacturer who is invading the markets where he was once supreme and taking his trade away from him. Isn't it apparent to every impartial, disinterested person that our manufacturers do not need tariff protection from foreigners with whom they successfully compete in the markets of the world and that the only effect of that protection is to continue the monopoly the protected have of the home market in which they have their largest trade and make their largest, and by far their greatest, profits, amounting in some cases to forty or fifty per cent. on the actual, bona fide capital employed?

The representatives in Washington are supposed to have an eye to the general welfare and to legislate for the general good, for the greatest good to the greatest number. That is the presumption. But are they doing this? Are they doing the fair or the just thing by the people when they show special favors to the few, and give that few the lawful privilege of practicing extortion on the people whose welfare ought to be one of the first considerations? Is Congress the guardian of the people's interest, or the servant of the monopolies that extort from the people they have in their power? While professing devotion to the people the Republican majority in Congress are serving the monopolies as effectively and faithfully as any hireling or slave ever served an employer or master. They will not touch the tariff which makes the protected manufacturers masters of the industrial field, fearing no competition.

LOSS AND GAIN.

The final figuring up shows that the Charleston Exposition comes out short about $450,000. The losses and unpaid claims against it amount to about this much. Congress will doubtless be asked to come to its relief, as it has been asked to come to the relief of previous expositions which failed to meet expenses, but it is very doubtful if this request will be granted. In the event it is not, the shortage must be made good by the stockholders in that enterprise. It will be their loss, but they will be the only losers, for the State of South Carolina has gained something by it, and the city of Charleston much. The Charleston News and Courier offsets the losses with the following gains:

It brought more people to Charleston in six months than had previously visited this city in nearly, if not quite, as many years.

It advertised Charleston as it has never been advertised before.

It gave the hotels and boarding houses and railroads more business than they have ever had at any period in the past.

It supplied tenants for nearly every vacant house in the city, and enabled owners of property to rent places at good prices, which could not be filled before at any price.

It added from three to five million dollars to the money circulated in this community.

It gave profitable employment to hundreds of men, women and children.

"It brought to Charleston the President of the United States, the Governors of fourteen States, the Mayors of many cities, the Legislature of South Carolina, two foreign ministers to the United States, the consular representatives of several foreign Governments with which this country has large commercial relations; the teachers and pupils of many of the best colleges and schools in this and other States; thousands of people from all parts of the country; capitalists looking for investments; men searching for homes, soldiers and sailors, home folks and strangers.

"It gave Charleston the most active business ever known and the most brilliant social period in the life of this well-meaning and hospitable community."

Taken as a whole this is a pretty solid offset to the losses, and shows that even from a financial standpoint the Exposition was very far from being a failure. From three to five million dollars put in circulation in that community will very largely overbalance the $450,000 shortage in receipts.

But in addition to this, there was a money value in the educational features of the Exposition, especially in that little Government farm, from which South Carolina and other Southern States may reap inestimable benefit.

COMPING ON CUBA.

As we read it the understanding reached by the Senate Committee on Cuban Relations favoring the Spooner bill as a substitute for the House bill is a dodge to get rid of that question until after the Fall elections, for it practically transfers the discussion from the Congress of the United States to the Congress of Cuba, which must first pass a tariff act to apply to this country. That will take some time, for, of course, there are statesmen over there who like to hear themselves talk about as well as some of our statesmen do, and after they have agreed on a scheme, then it will take President Roosevelt some time to investigate, consider and digest it before he takes the final action provided for in this compromise.

Whether the opponents of reciprocity will agree to this remains to be seen, but possibly they will, for that will stave off reciprocity for some time and leave them in as good a position to oppose it later on as they are now, and will make the chances better for harmonizing in the coming elections. It is important to them that the Republicans elect a majority in the next Congress, for unless the President changes base in the meantime reciprocity, which failed at this session, would probably go through the next Congress, if not in the next session of this one. This may influence them to favor for the present the Spooner dodge. As artful dodgers the Republican leaders established a reputation long ago.

Senator Mason has postponed coming South to address Republicans until the Fall. Sensible thing to do. If he undertook to address Southern Republicans with the mercury where it usually is in the Summer time he would want a forty-acre lot and a stiff breeze.

Jokes turn out all right sometimes. There is a rush to a new gold ledge near Shasta, California, which owes its discovery to a joke. Not long ago a number of miners were gathered in a store, and a man who wasn't a miner told of finding a piece of rich quartz about 12 years ago, in a gulch not far from town. He described the locality. He never found any quartzs there or anywhere else. Next morning one of the miners concluded he would explore that gulch, and he wasn't long at it before he struck a ledge, and took quartz from it which assays from $100 to $500 a ton and now there is a rush for French Gulch.

A writer in the Chicago Record Herald quotes Signor Sorrentino, a noted band director, as saying that Dixie is the most popular air in this country, not only in the South, where that might be expected, but in the North, where it might not be expected. Hail Columbia comes next. That is always greeted with applause, but Dixie makes men shout. The reason, he says, is because Dixie has "fire" in it.

CURRENT COMMENT

—The Supreme Court of Kansas rendered a decision last week upholding the validity and constitutionality of the Farrelly anti-trust law enacted in 1897. Kansas is always doing remarkable things.—Atlanta Journal, Dem.

—The Louisville school teacher who tried to force a girl pupil to join in singing "Marching Through Georgia," displayed as little sense of the proprieties as President Roosevelt did when he went to South Carolina to denounce everybody who didn't praise his administration. The people of the South, including Confederate veterans, are now glad that the Union was maintained; but they are not made any gladder by having sectionalism revived and thrust in their faces.—Brooklyn Citizen, Dem.

—Cuban independence has brought in its train amnesty and freedom for all Americans convicted of or indicted for crime during the Federal occupation of the island. Thus some ingrained rascals of the more desperate sort will go unwhipped of justice after all. President Palma's view of the matter is that it is simply "an evidence of gratitude and good will toward the American people." Queer notion, that. In recognition of our benevolence and generosity our scoundrels are to be sent back to us.—Philadelphia Record, Dem.

—"By far the best course for the Republicans," says the Louisville Commercial, of that party, "is to let the Cuban tariff tinkering alone for this session; let the representatives of the people get in touch with their constituents; and let them find out that the people do not want the great beet-farming industry of the West and the cane sugar growers of the South sacrificed that the New England Sugar Trust may make increased profits. There is no longer even a pretence that the proposed tariff reduction is intended to benefit the Cubans.—Charleston News and Courier, Dem.

TWINKLINGS

—Head of Firm (to new office boy)—Can you do anything else but whistle and loaf? Boy—Yes, sir; I can play craps.

—What is the difference between a sewing machine and a kiss? One sews seams nice; and the other seems so nice.—Quips and Cranks.

—"They had to wait two hours for the bridegroom last night." "Where was he?" "Playing ping-pong at the best man's."

—Lady—Poor little chap. My dog bit you? Well, here is a dime. Boy—Say, Missis, let's let him bite me twice more and call it a quarter.

—"I never venture out at night unless I am armed to the teeth." Maude—Do you carry revolvers? Millicent—Revolvers, bah, I always carry a hatpin.

—Take the Whole Girl: Timid Suitor—"I wish to ask for your daughter's hand, sir." Father—"You might as well take the entire daughter, young man."—Ohio State Journal.

—Questions and Answers Once More—A daily paper states that William Robb has been sentenced at Glasgow to sixty days for stealing bagpipes. Why did William Robb? Because it was his nature to bag pipes.—Punch.

—Another Crime: Struckoyle (showing his art collection)—Ain't that bull fight picture a beaut? I paid an artist $2,000 to paint that for me, to order. Cutting—Well, well. It is surprising what some men will do for money, isn't it?—Punch.

—"But you are too young," pleaded the anxious mother. "No girl should marry before her mind is fully formed." "Oh, said the gladsome maiden of eighteen summers, "My mind has been made up for more than a week."—Tit-Bits.

—Anything for a Cure: Mrs. Nexdore—"I've been thinking of trying to have my daughter's voice cultivated. Would you?" Mr. Peppery—"By all means, if you have tried every other remedy."—Philadelphia Press.

—Comparative Valuation.—"Be not like dumb driven cattle!" exclaimed the graduating girl. "No chance of it!" muttered the cynic in the back row of the auditorium. "I'd like to see the day when I'm worth as much as sirloin and porterhouse."—Washington Star.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

—Fayetteville Observer: Miss Sarah McAllister died on Monday, June 16th, at her home near Wade station. —Mr. J. R. Raynor died at his home in 71st Monday afternoon.

—Charlotte News: Gamewell Carson, colored, was arraigned Monday for a murderous attack on John Zigler, a white carpenter of this city, who lives at 905 North Tyron street. Mr. Zigler was going home Saturday night about 9:30 and was near the railroad overhead bridge on North Tyron street when somebody suddenly sprang out from the darkness and began slashing away at Mr. Zigler. The assailant inflicted a gash about six inches long in the breast of Mr. Zigler and a terrible cut just above the wrist of the left arm. The latter cut severed the flesh almost entirely about the bone.

—Newbern Journal: The report of the death of two young men of Maysville which occurred Monday afternoon reached here yesterday. The manner of their death is said to be the result of foolhardiness, from over indulgence in wood alcohol Saturday evening. One young man named Whitty was in the bicycle repair shop which was operated by a friend and was a common resort for the young men of the village. On seeing a bottle containing a large quantity of wood alcohol used in repairing bicycles and machinery Whitty dared his companions to drink the stuff. None but the proprietor of the shop accepted the dare and two began drinking it, diluted, of course, and drank it at frequent intervals until Sunday afternoon when both became violently sick going into spasms which increased in violence until death relieved them late Monday afternoon.

—Monroe Journal: Mr. Carson A. Helms, a well known Confederate veteran, died at his home near Mt. Carmel Sunday, aged 68 years. He was a member of Company B, Forty third regiment, C. S. V., and lost a leg at Ream's Station. —Mrs. J. D. Helms, of Goose Creek township, died last Tuesday morning. While she had not been in good health, her death was unexpected. She was in the house alone when she was seized. She called to her little daughter who was near by, but died before any assistance could be procured. —"I am afraid the chinch bugs may ruin our corn," said Mr. Coleman Stewart, one of the county's best farmers, this morning. "I have the biggest crop of bugs I ever had." —A serious shooting affair, in which R. A. Barrett, Will Green and Gus Belk were the principals, took place Saturday morning. The shooting occurred in Buford township and near the home of Green. Green was shot once, in the abdomen, by Barrett; Barrett was shot twice by Belk, a load in each hip, and Belk's clothes were pierced by a bullet from Barrett's pistol, but he escaped unharmed.

—Asheboro Courier: On June 4th, 1902, Oscar Williams, of Providence township, killed Lafayette Routh, near Lineberry Station, twelve miles north of Asheboro. One of the witnesses says that he was near E. L. Routh, Tom Allred and Oscar Williams at the time. Williams was talking about being hit with a bottle. His mother and sister and one or two brothers came out on hearing the words and asked if there was not danger of a row? The bystanders said that they were drinking, but there was no danger of trouble. Soon after that, Williams, who was standing off, stepped toward Routh and said: "You hit me with a bottle and I'm going to kill you." Geo. S. Allred was on a mule near by and got off immediately and went to the rescue of Routh. When Allred got to Routh Williams had cut him severely seven times with a knife. Routh sank to the ground, saying, "I'm killed." Williams asked a bystander what they would do with him. The bystander replied, saying, "I expect they will hang you." Williams went away then to his father's house near by. There was much indignation at the time and talk of lynching. Williams was arrested and committed to jail here to await the action of the grand jury at the next term of Randolph Superior Court.

Afghan Ferries.

The Afghan ferryman at some ferries on the river Oxus makes use of ponies to get his clumsy boat across the stream. "One or sometimes two of these rather insufficient looking animals are attached to the boat by bellybands or surcingles, which allow them to swim alongside, with the strain of the haul on their middles. They are to a certain extent supported in the water by the ropes which attach them to the boat, but only their heads are usually visible as they strike out with measured pace, snorting with each stroke, being directed from the boat as to which way they should go. So powerful is their stroke that two small thirteen hand ponies will easily pull a boat which might carry ten tons of dead weight. One almost looked to see if their feet were webbed as they struggled into the shallows of the river banks. It was a revelation as to the strength of a horse's stroke in the water."

Too Valuable to Lose.

An important cricket match was scheduled in an English village, and, to the disappointment of everybody, the best player was unable to play owing to a sprained wrist. The new curate was hurriedly substituted and by his brilliant play secured a victory for the local team. The next morning as the squire, himself an enthusiastic cricketer, was leaving the church, where the curate had just preached his first sermon, he was asked by the vicar what he thought of the new curate.

"Oh," responded the squire, "his voice is weak, his doctrine's shaky, he isn't as learned as he should be, but his cricket is a fair eye opener. We must keep him, even if we have to pay him double the salary."

How to Mend China.

For mending china and glass ware one authority states that a cement made of starch, glycerin and gypsum will maintain its adhesiveness longer than any other.

Tot Causes Night Alarm.

"One night my brother's baby was taken with croup," writes Mrs. J. C. Snider, of Crittenden, Ky. "It seemed it would strangle before we could get a doctor; so we gave it Dr. King's New Discovery, which gave quick relief and permanently cured it. We always keep it in the house to protect our children from Croup and Whooping Cough. It cured me of a chronic bronchial trouble that no other remedy would relieve." Infallible for Coughs, Colds, Throat and Lung troubles. Price 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at R. R. BELLAMY'S drug store. †

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, June 18.—The cotton market opened firm with prices three to six points higher on bullish Liverpool cables and no signs of rain in the western belt on the initial weather chart. The shorts of yesterday covered up eagerly, fearing a pronounced reaction from the recent severe break. Wall street interests appeared to be covering up short accounts in the Summer months, but were noticed to be selling the late positions. Following the call July was bid up to 8.58 and August to 8.29 with sentiment for the moment quite bullish. Liverpool and the South sent moderate buying orders here and sellers were scarce at best. Then came reports of soaking rains over the greater portion of the central belt and over the northern section of the western belt, while the official forecast indicated showers generally except in portions of Texas and in some sections of the South Atlantic States. Liquidation at once set in and bear pressure came to the front. A sharp break in the New Orleans market, with private telegrams reporting rain in the central belt, helped to weaken the market. Prices rapidly declined until last night's figures were reached, when profit-taking for a time checked the downward movement. But in the early afternoon heavy selling for both accounts once more weakened the market and throughout the last hour prices made but feeble rallies from the bottom. Reports that spot cotton was offered at lower prices in the cotton country and fears of a severe break in Liverpool to-morrow prompted general selling. The market closed barely steady, with March two points higher and other months unchanged to five points lower. The Summer months suffered most in the liquidation. Total sales were estimated at 250,000 bales. Late in the day New Orleans was a seller in the New York market.

CHICAGO, June 18.—Corn executed a high and lofty tumbling feat to day. Nerve wrecking excitement over the corner in July options ruled the day. From the opening the Wall street clique shuffled prices in such an astonishing manner that the gyrations exhibited were such as made yesterday's erratic ups and downs look like any ordinary "smoking room day." Every natural condition inherent to the pit's was ignored. The range of July corn—and that was all that was of importance on 'Change to-day—consisted of an upturn of 1½c at the opening; a slump of 3½c from the top price and a slight recovery from the bottom figure. Other pits naturally felt the influence of such pranks, but most speculators in other commodities did not allow their judgment to be marred, and in the end July corn closed 2c down; July wheat ¼c higher and July oats ¼c lower.

DEMOCRATIC PLAN OF ORGANIZATION.

1. The unit of county organization shall be the voting precincts. In each precinct there shall be an executive committee, to consist of five active Democrats, who shall be elected by the Democratic voters at the several precincts in the meeting first called by the county executive committee. And said committee so elected shall elect one of its members as chairman, who shall preside at all committee meetings.

2. The chairmen of the several precinct committees shall compose the county executive committee, which shall meet at the same time and place as the county convention first held in each election year, and elect a chairman of said county committee who need not be a member of the committee, and he shall preside at all meetings of said committee, and shall hold his place until his successor shall be elected. A majority of said precinct chairmen, in person, or by proxy, shall constitute a quorum. The county committee shall likewise appoint a central committee of five, who shall act in its stead when the county committee is not in session.

3. In case there shall be a failure on the part of any precinct to elect its executive committee for a period of thirty days, the county executive committee shall appoint said committee from the Democratic voters of said precinct.

4. The members of the precinct committee shall elect to any vacancy occurring in said committee.

5. The county executive committee shall call all necessary conventions by giving at least ten days' notice by public advertisement in three public places in each precinct, at the court house door, and any Democratic newspapers that may be published in said county, requesting all Democrats of the county to meet in their respective precincts on a common day therein stated, which said day shall not be less than three days before the meeting of the county conventions, for the purpose of electing their delegates to the county conventions. Thereupon the meeting so held shall elect their delegates to represent the precincts in the county convention from the voters of the respective voting precincts, which delegates, or such of them as shall attend, shall vote the full Democratic strength of their respective voting precincts on all questions that may come before said county conventions. In case no meeting shall be held in any precinct in pursuance of said call, or no election shall be made, the precinct executive committee shall appoint such delegates.

PRIMARIES.

6. At every precinct meeting there shall (before the delegates to the county convention are elected) be a vote taken for the different candidates for office, whose names may be presented and the delegates shall vote in the county convention of their respective districts in accordance with this vote; that is to say, each candidate shall receive in the county convention that proportion of the vote to which the precinct may be entitled which he received in the precinct meeting. The chairman and secretary of the precinct meeting shall certify to the county convention the vote received by each candidate at the precinct meeting.

7. Each precinct shall be entitled to cast in the county convention one vote for every twenty-five Democratic votes, and one vote for fractions of thirteen Democratic votes cast by the township at the last preceding gubernatorial election. Provided, that every voting precinct shall be entitled to cast one vote, and each precinct may send as many delegates as it may see fit.

8. The chairmen of the precinct committees shall preside at all precinct meetings. In their absence any other member of said committees may preside.

COUNTY AND DISTRICT CONVENTIONS

1. The several county conventions shall be entitled to elect to their senatorial, judicial and congressional conventions one delegate and one alternate for every fifty Democratic votes, and one delegate for fractions of over twenty-five Democratic votes cast at the last preceding gubernatorial election in their respective counties; and none but delegates or alternates so elected shall be entitled to a seat in said conventions: Provided, further, That in all county conventions in which delegates shall be selected to attend any State, congressional, judicial or other convention, a vote shall be taken in accordance with the plan of organization as to the candidates whose names may be presented to such county convention. The delegates shall be selected from the friends and supporters of each candidate voted for, in proportion to the number of votes he shall receive in such county convention and no other instruction shall be given: Provided further, That when only one candidate is presented and voted for at each county convention it shall be lawful to instruct for such candidate.

2. At every county convention (before delegates to State, congressional, judicial, senatorial or other conventions are chosen) there shall be a vote taken for the different candidates for office whose names may be presented and the delegates shall vote their respective counties in accordance with this vote, that is to say each candidate shall receive in the State, congressional, judicial, senatorial or other convention the proportion of the vote to which the county may be entitled which he received in the county convention. The chairman and secretary of the county convention shall certify to each convention the vote received by each candidate given: Provided, That where only one candidate is presented it shall be lawful to instruct for him. At all State and district conventions the delegates from the different counties may disregard the vote of their respective counties as to any candidate: Provided, That a two-thirds majority of all his votes from the county consent.

3. The chairman, or in his absence any member of the county, senatorial, judicial and congressional convention shall call to order their respective conventions and hold chairmanship thereof until the convention shall elect its chairman.

4. The executive committees of the senatorial, congressional and judicial districts, respectively, shall, at the call of their respective chairmen, meet at some time and place in their respective districts, and the chairmen of said respective committees shall immediately notify the chairmen of the different county executive committees of the said appointment and the said county executive committee shall forthwith call conventions of their respective counties in conformity to said notice to send delegates to said respective district conventions.

STATE CONVENTIONS.

The State convention shall be composed of delegates appointed by the several county conventions. Each county shall be entitled to elect one delegate and one alternate for every one hundred and fifty Democratic votes and one delegate for fractions over seventy-five Democratic votes cast therein at the last preceding gubernatorial election; and none but delegates or alternates so elected shall be entitled to seats in said convention: Provided, That every county shall have at least one vote in the convention.

Resolution passed at meeting of executive committee, November 30, 1897:

"Resolved, That in accordance with the resolution hereinbefore adopted, all white electors who intend to vote with us in the next election, and who desire the re-establishment of Anglo-Saxon supremacy and honest government in North Carolina are cordially invited to participate in all our primaries and conventions."

GENERAL RULES.

1. At all conventions the delegates shall be selected as near as may be from the friends and supporters of the candidates voted for.

2. Such delegates—or alternates of absent delegates—as may be present at any Democratic convention shall be allowed to cast the whole vote to which their precinct or county may be entitled.

3. In all conventions provided for by this system, after a vote is cast, there shall be no change in such votes until the final result of the ballot shall be announced by the chairman of said convention.

4. All Democratic executive committees shall have the power to fill any vacancies occurring in their respective bodies.

5. The chairmen of the different county conventions shall certify the list of delegates and alternates of the different district and State conventions, and a certified list of said delegates and alternates to the secretary of the State central committee.

6. It shall be the duty of the county committee and its chairman to furnish such information and make such reports to the chairman of the State committee as he may desire.

F. M. SIMMONS,
Chairman State Democratic Executive Committee.
P. M. PEARSALL, Secretary.

Our 98c line of untrimmed hats will be sold for 50c this week; our verbena straws will be 39c and 25c. In black velvet ribbon we have everything all widths—narrow widths for 19c apiece, all widths up to No. 60. No. 40 taffeta ribbon, black and colors, we are selling for 15c; No. 6 for 20c. Come to us for millinery this week and we will save you money and show you more new goods than you ever saw at one time in this city.

Mosquito canopies: our new perfection canopy for $2.98 for large size bed; hanging canopies for $1.19, and $1.50; mosquito netting for 45c per bolt.

We have the sole agency for the Aladin globe lamp, the most improved lamp made; each lamp is furnished with fireproof shade, and a nice lamp mat all for $1.50 each.

We also carry a full line of Ladies' Wrappers that we sell from 74c for a full size, well made wrapper and up to $1.25 each. Ladies' mercerized accordion pleated bottom Underskirts for special price of 50c.

We will put on sale this week our regular 35c broom for 23c, our 50c broom for 35c.

In our Slipper and Shoe Department we are trying hard to unload our stock. We are giving the best value money can buy. Children's Slippers from 50c to $1.25 a pair; Ladies' from 50c to $2 a pair.

If you are needing a suit of men's or boys' clothing, we can save you 25 per cent. on your purchase. See our stock before you buy elsewhere.

Fifteen dozen men's 50c caps we are selling now for 25c; boys' wool golf caps, in assorted colors, for 5c each. We quote prices because we do not dread competition. We sell more goods and better goods for the money than any store in North Carolina. We want your trade. We offer you values that cannot be equalled and give you a valuable present free with cash purchases.

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 19.

UNITED MINE WORKERS CALL FOR CONVENTION.

To Consider the Question of Involving All the Soft Coal Miners in the Struggle Now Going On

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 18.—The long expected call for a special national convention of United Mine Workers of America was issued to-day by National President Mitchell. The convention will be held at Indianapolis on July 17th. The call was issued simultaneously from headquarters here and at Indianapolis.

The convention will be held for the purpose of discussing the advisability of involving all the soft coal miners in the United Statds in the struggle now going on in the anthracite coal fields.

Under the constitution of the Union five districts must request action before the national president can issue a call for a national convention. The five districts that applied for this convention were the three anthracite districts, the Michigan district and the West Virginia district, where a strike is now going on. President Mitchell has had the consent of the five districts for some time, but for some reason did not see fit to issue a call until to-day. The request for the convention was made at Hazelton four weeks ago last Friday.

President Mitchell was extremely uncommunicative as to what the probable action of the convention might be. If the delegates should decide to inaugurate a national suspension of coal mining everybody at strike headquarters believes it would have a disastrous effect on the industries of the country. The supply of coal would become so short that large and small industrial establishments would be compelled to suspend operations and many railroads would also seriously suffer.

There re approximately about 450-450,000 coal miners in the United States. Of these about 350,000, Mr. Mitchell says, are affiliated with the Union and an additional 50,000 comply with the legislation of the miners' organization.

It is utterly impossible at this distance to forecast what the national gathering will do, because not one delegate has yet been elected. The anthracite delegates will go into the convention with 142,000 striking hard coal miners at their back for a general strike. The West Virginia delegates will have approximately 25,000 behind them for a strike, and in Michigan, where the Union has been having trouble, the delegates will also be instructed for a national suspension. Central Pennsylvania will contribute a certain number of delegates who will want a strike, as will also Kentucky. It remains for Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois and Indiana to offset this, as it is unofficially understood that the miners in those sections are not very enthusiastic for a general stoppage of coal production.

It is not improbable that the conservative men in the convention will be able to prevent a general suspension and carry through the convention some sort of a compromise.

A plan is to have all the soft coal miners work only a certain number of days each week. Failing to gain anything by either of these two moves, then as a final card, stop the production altogether. All the coal that is now coming East is from central Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Maryland.

MARCHING MINERS STOPPED.

Strike Situation in the Pocahontas Coal Fields—Reported Attempt to Wreck a Train on the N. & W. R. R.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ROANOKE, VA., June 18.—Reports of an attempt to wreck the eastbound passenger train on the Norfolk and Western railroad near Pocahontas last midnight reached here to-day, but an official investigation shows the story to have been unfounded. A Norfolk and Western trainman named Bowen to-day reported to the officials that he found six sticks of dynamite on the Norfolk and Western tracks, near Graham, Va., and that while removing the explosive he was fired upon several times from ambush. His hat and clothing were pierced with bullets.

The large band of marching miners reached Pocahontas last night, and were met there by the sheriff of Tazewell county, Virginia, who with a force of deputies compelled the marchers to leave that county. They went back to the West Virginia side. No shots were fired and the miners retreated peacefully. All the sheriffs in the territory affected by the strike have instructions to keep the marchers moving. More coal was loaded yesterday than on any day since the strike began, and all the operators report gains in the number of returning miners. Fully sixty per cent of the men are said to be at work to-day.

Strikers Weakening.

A special to the Roanoke Times, from Eckman, W. Va., says:

The strike situation has suddenly taken on a complete change. So large a number of strikers have returned to work that those still out have become discouraged and are going back into the mines. The mine owners think the end of the strike is near. Many coke ovens which have been idle for ten days have again been lighted up. Guards are still being kept at the mines, but not in such a large number as previously.

An Order For Troops.

It was learned to-night that Adjutant General Nalle has issued orders to the two military companies at Roanoke and the company at Clifton Forge to be in readiness for a call to the Virginia coal fields. It is announced that this order was based upon a telegram received from the coal fields, saying that 500 strikers, heavily armed, were marching towards the Virginia side.

ANARCHIST MOB IN PATERSON, N. J.

Rioters Attacked the Silk Mills and Other Factories and Drove Out Employes.

CONFLICTS WITH THE POLICE.

Many Persons Injured, Two of Them Fatally—Anarchists Threaten Reprisals—Mill Men Say They Will Resume Work To-day.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PATERSON, N. J., June 17.—This city was in the hands of a mob to-day and as a result of the riots a number of persons were shot and two at least will die.

The police did their work well, but they were so few in number that they could make little headway against the mob. Mills were wrecked with stones and bullets by the striking silk dyers' helpers, or roughs acting for them. There were threats to resort to the torch; but so far the mayor hesitates about asking Governor Murphy for troops.

There seems to be every indication that the riot was the result of a pre-arranged plan to involve the would be peaceful element in the affair from the start. Among the leaders of the trouble was a man named McQueen and another named Galleano, the former an Englishman and the latter an Italian. Others, agents of Anarchist circles, have also been quietly fanning the flames.

This morning Chairman McGrath, who has held the strikers in leash since he first obtained control on second day of strike, was on hand and presided. He spoke; so did McQueen, and the latter worked his countrymen into a frenzy.

Raid on the Silk Mills.

Then McQueen leaped into control of the meeting. He called for a vote on the question of the calling of a strike of all branches of the silk trade. All voted in favor and a committee was appointed to consider means for bringing the silk workers out. Galleano was one of this committee. It gathered amid a babel of tongues and a scene of confusion. Twenty minutes later Galleano emerged from the group shouting something in Italian. Instantly a mob had formed about him. Into it rushed the Italians and then the other foreigners, and a moment later the mob, led by Galleano swept down Belmont avenue. A quarter of a mile down the avenue stands the Columbia mill, a silk ribbon factory. The doors had been locked, but when the mob appeared they forced them open and with the crash of the doors came a volley of stones which riddled the windows in the front of the building.

President Gross Gebeaure telephoned for the police. Stones rained into the office and flew about his head. Twenty young women on the first floor stood at bay and threatened to fight, and the weavers on the second floor ran down to their aid. William Westerfield, the leader of the ribbon workers' strike eight years ago, took command. He directed those in the place to leave and denounced the Anarchists.

When the operatives were out of the Columbia the mob swept on down Belmont avenue. Several members of the "Group of Existence," Bresci's comrades, with Galleano at their head, were in the lead. A half mile march brought the mob to the Cedar Cliff mill where they stayed until all were out. Just beyond the Cedar Cliff is the Rynwarner mill. The doors were burst open there and the men and girls were found ready to go out and waiting for orders from the New York office. When this was seen the rioters did nothing, but waited until the mill was closed.

The next place visited was a cotton braid factory. The women became hysterical as the howling rioters climbed in windows and burst in the doors. Mr. Rheinhardt, the owner, ordered his employes to quit for the day.

The mob rushed through the cotton works and did much damage and then poured on down the street to Bamford Brothers mill in Cliff street. Here patrolmen Robinson, Sweetman, Keys and Detective Magie had taken a stand. The four faced the mob for five minutes, telling them that the employes had gone out by the rear and the works were closed down. Over the main door hung a sign reading, "Dyers' helpers wanted."

A Fight With the Mob.

There was a rush and men leaping on the shoulders of others tore it down. Some one threw a brick through a window and stones rained against the side of the mill and the windows felt the showers. Stones were hurled at the officers and all four were struck several times.

A section of the mob made for the Bamford Home, close by. The police sought to head them off and did so, but a shot was fired and a bullet went through Robinson's right arm. It staggered him, and he was regaining his feet, when a jagged rock hit him on the head, laying open the scalp. Supported by his comrades Robinson was taken to the Bamford Home. The remaining three drove back the mob from the house and the attack on the mill was renewed. The young women in the mill tried to get out and were driven back, but escaped later by the rear.

Martha Huyser was struck by a rock and one of her arms badly hurt. A reporter who was in the mill was hit on the head with a stone and his scalp laid open. The mob swarmed into the mill and saw that no one remained, but still those on the outside kept up the bombardment.

The mill would have been wrecked inside as well as outside had not a patrol wagon loaded with officers charged through the mob on Cliff street. Rocks rained down on it and none of the officers escaped. Patrolman Irving Post saw a man hurl a rock, and fired, the bullet striking the rioter in the neck. Before the officers could get to the man he was hauled into the mob and carried away. With revolvers drawn the officers quickly deployed and the mob fell back.

A block away Galleano again appeared and led the mob through Temple street to Helnam and Myers' mill, where the employes were compelled to come out.

Other Mills Attacked.

Flushed with success the mob pushed across the Main street bridge to the New Jersey Silk Company's establishment, where the employes were driven out.

At Leavy's mill, on Bridge street, the manager met the mob at the door and assured the leaders that the employes were preparing to leave.

When the mill was emptied the strikers moved on. They passed through River street to the Laurel, the Empire and the Augusta mills where only Patrolmen Fields and Titus were on guard and were powerless against the mob. The managers of the three mills had determined to empty their mills and two of them did so, but the Augusta mill was still full, although shut down. The mob found this out and burst in. They found themselves face to face with the women of the mill, led by Mrs. Parker, determined to stand their ground. The women were thrust aside and driven out of the mill amid the most foul abuse. The Hall mill, which sheltered four silk working firms, was the next attacked. A single policeman guarded the main entrance. He was ordered to stand aside and on refusing was attacked. He drew his revolver and began to fire.

Rioters Routed.

Lora Salvino, an Italian, 24 years old, who lives and works in Hackensack, received the first bullet, which penetrated both lungs. The mob drew back and the officer retained his post in the doorway. Several shots were fired at him, but none of them took effect. He replied, firing directly into the crowd, until his weapon was empty, when five more uniformed men and one in plain clothes came on a run through Fulton street. The mob kept on firing, and the officers charged, firing, when the strikers broke and ran.

Spectators say that fully one hundred shots were fired. Salvino was left behind and was taken to the hospital. One hundred and fifty hats were picked up in the street afterward, which were lost in the wild scramble to get away. There is no doubt that several of the rioters were hurt.

It was about this time that the mayor called on the firemen for aid and men were detailed from each company and armed, and during the afternoon rendered efficient service.

Mob Formed Again.

The shooting seemed to scatter the rioters, but it was not long before a dense mob had formed again, this time about the Gaede mill on North Straight street, where there was a crowd of two thousand. Half of them were rioters and the rest overlookers. The mill was bombarded and before the mob stopped there was not a whole window in the building.

Harry Harris, a reporter, was at this point. He was armed with a revolver, and had a camera, with which he attempted to take pictures, standing on a stoop a short distance from the street. His act of training the camera was seen and he was warned to desist.

A moment later a rain of stones fell about him and he was knocked down. As he fell men rushed on him and he was kicked and beaten. He drew his revolver and tried to use it, but it was kicked from his hand. A man grabbed it and fired at Harris, the bullet entering his chest. He has a slight chance of recovery.

By this time the mill was emptied of the operatives and this practically ended the rioting for the day, after all of the mills had closed down.

During the day from time to time wounded had been carried to the hospitals. Besides those whose names can be given, it is certain many more were hurt.

This afternoon Anarchists who seemed to be in command were openly threatening that a policeman's life would pay for each wounded rioter.

The police to-night are tired, sore and angry and they say that a resumption of the rioting in the morning will find them prepared to shoot to kill. The mill owners say they will resume work in the morning and will hold the county responsible for all resulting damage.

FIGHTING IN VENEZUELA.

Seaport Town of La Vela De Coro Captured by Revolutionists

By Cable to the Morning Star.

WILLEMSTAD, ISLAND OF CURACOA, Friday, June 13.—News reached here to-day of an important success of the Venezuelan revolutionists. After five hours fighting Wednesday, June 11th, one thousand revolutionists, commanded by Generals Reira, Penalosa and Sierralta, captured La Vela de Coro, a seaport town on the Gulf of Coro. Of the government forces twenty-seven men were killed and 128 were captured. Coro, the capital of the State of Falcon, where Vice President Ayala is in command of the troops of the government, is besieged by the revolutionists and when these advices left La Vela de Coro, was expected to surrender at any moment.

REWARD OFFERED.

For the Arrest and Conviction of the Salisbury Lynchers.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RALEIGH, N. C., June 18.—Gov. Aycock to-day offered rewards aggregating $30,000 for the arrest and conviction of unknown persons who, on the night of June 11th, took the negroes, Gillespies, from the jail at Salisbury and lynched them. There were about seventy-five men in the party, and the Governor offers a reward of $400 for each of them. It is understood that evidence has been found tending to show that one of the negroes was innocent of the crime with which he was charged.

POLITICAL DEBATE IN THE HOUSE.

Richardson of Tennessee, the Minority Leader, Arraigns the Republican Party.

CANNON MADE BRIEF REPLY.

The General Deficiency Appropriation Bill Passed—Proceedings in the Senate — Continuation of Debate on Canal Question.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The near approach of the end of the present session of Congress was signalled by a general political speech by Mr. Richardson, of Tennessee, the leader of the minority. Taking advantage of the latitude allowed during general debate on the Deficiency Appropriation bill, he delivered a set speech of an hour and a half. Mr. Shallenberger, of Nebraska, also made a political speech.

Mr. Cannon, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, in a brief reply to both speeches, said he was ready to go to the country on the record of the Republican party. In the course of some remarks early in the session Mr. Cannon declared that if he could have his way Congress would adjourn sine die before July 4th.

The General Deficiency appropriation bill, the last of the supply bills, was passed.

A night session was held at which the House considered bills reported from the Committee on Indian Affairs.

Republican Party Arraigned.

Mr. Richardson said the Republican party had had absolute control of all branches of the government for six years. He proposed to examine into its trusteeship. The dominant party, he said, had come into power with certain express promises and pledges and he argued that its record was spotted all over with the leprosy of pledges unredeemed.

First, he directed attention to the promise of reasonable trade concessions to Cuba, solemnly given, which had been defeated, he stated, by discord and rebellion in the Republican ranks. He then went back to 1896, charging that the Republicans had betrayed their pledges on the money question, and later in 1900 when they appealed for a further lease of power in order to cure the alleged defect in the legislation for the perpetuation of the gold standard. Not one line of remedial legislation had been placed upon the statute books since 1900.

Mr. Richardson announced that in his opinion the gravest danger now threatening the welfare of the people and the country was the growth of the power of the trusts. There was, he declared, an irrepressible cry throughout the country for government control of the great trusts. Congress alone could heed that cry. If it was not heeded these remorseless trusts could proceed in their greed to defy the power of the government itself.

The Great Trusts.

Mr. Richardson charged that the growth of these great trusts was due to the existence of the highest protective tariff ever placed on the statute books. There was sworn testimony of the beneficiaries of the tariff that it was "the mother of trusts."

The Sherman anti-trust law, to which the dominant party pointed with pride, he said, was a dead letter. Under it the trusts flourished like mushrooms in a dark cellar. Yet Congress did nothing. If the people did not turn out of power the friends of the trusts, he said, they would deserve the fate the trust had in store for them. The Republicans, he said, seemed to be paralyzed with fear. They cried and asked whether the President and attorney general were not now endeavoring to restrain the trusts. That was true, he said, but action against a single trust could accomplish nothing. Congress must act. Presidential strenuosity would not compensate for Congressional ennui.

When Mr. Richardson declared that the Democrats were willing to remain in session until the snow flew in order to give the people some relief from tariff taxation, his Democratic colleagues gave him a round of applause.

He quoted a statement attributed to Speaker Henderson, about the circulation of false reports regarding Cuban reciprocity, and added: "From recent developments it would seem that possibly the government itself was particeps criminis to the circulation of the reports of which the speaker complained." [Democratic laughter].

Reckless Extravagance.

In conclusion, Mr. Richardson charged the Republican party with improper, scandalous and reckless extravagance. In four years the increase of appropriations, he said, was $1,067,000,000. For that vast sum of money he asked what had the United States gained and in reply read the closing paragraphs of Senator Hoar's Philippine speech, in which the Massachusetts Senator gave a list of the vessels we had acquired by the war with Spain.

Mr. Shallenberger, Nebraska, condemned the action of the secretary of war in dismissing Miss Taylor, a clerk in the War Department, for criticising the administration. He also condemned the action of General Wood in using Cuban funds to make public sentiment in the United States in favor of Cuban reciprocity.

Cannon's Reply.

Mr. Cannon made a brief reply to the speeches of Mr. Richardson and Mr. Shallenberger. "I listened with care for almost an hour and a half," said Mr. Cannon, "to the remarks of the gentleman from Tennessee, the leader on the other side of the House, and after listening to him I am here to confess that on this side of the House, and I rather suspect on the other side of the House, the millenium has not come. (Laughter.) We are not perfect and we do not claim to be. We pull the wagon and we do the work, and you find the fault. You had full power under Cleveland—you come in power partially from time to time—but then you had full power. It is recent—from 1893 to 1897. Don't you wish you could blot out the recollection of the manner in which you exercised it? (Laughter and applause on the Republican side.)

The bill then was read for amendment under the five minute rule.

Cuban Expenditures.

Mr. Bartlett, of Georgia, offered an amendment to appropriate $25,500 to reimburse the revenues of Cuba for the amount paid to Governor General Wood out of the Cuban revenues by direction of the secretary of war in excess of his salary as brigadier general.

"With great grief and pain," observed Mr. Cannon sarcastically, "I am compelled to raise the point of order that the appropriation is not authorized by law."

Mr. Bartlett pointed out that a somewhat similar provision appeared in a former deficiency bill to pay back to the Cuban revenues the money "stolen by Rathbone and Neely and Reeves." That provision was lost in conference. Nevertheless, he did not believe the gentlemen on the other side would seek to prevent by technicality the return of money taken from the Cuban treasury, "illegitimately, illegally and in violation of law."

"You cannot cry this matter down" said Mr. Bartlett, addressing the Republican side, "you might as well face it now." I commend to the country this continued effort on the part of the other side of the House to smother every attempt to explain the situation of affairs in Cuba."

When Mr. Cannon declined to withdraw his point of order, Mr. Bartlett withdrew the amendment. The bill was then passed.

Senate Proceedings.

Interest in the Isthmian canal question increases as the time for a final vote in the Senate approaches. Tomorrow at 2 o'clock the voting on the amendments to the pending Nicaragua canal bill will begin, and a final disposition of the matter is expected to be reached soon after.

The Senate to-day devoted practically its entire session to consideration of the canal question. Extended speeches were delivered by Mr. Spooner, of Wisconsin, and Mr. Hanna, of Ohio, in advocacy of the adoption of the Panama route, and Mr. Pettus, of Alabama, advocated the selection of the Nicaragua route. Mr. Teller, of Colorado, briefly announced his support of the Panama project, while Mr. Jones, of Arkansas, indicated his leanings toward the same route.

Mr. Carmack, of Tennessee, addressed the Senate in support of his resolution to inquire into the discharge from the War Department of Miss Rebecca J. Taylor, for the publication of articles in newspapers criticising the President. He intimated that she was discharged "because she took the wrong side of the Philippine question from the administration point of view."

THE BANKERS' CONVENTION.

Resolution on the Fowler Bill Adopted. Officers of the N. C. Association Elected.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

SAVANNAH, GA., June 18.—The Interstate Bankers' Convention adjourned to-day after accepting a modified resolution bearing on the Fowler banking bill. The resolution regrets that Representative Fowler could not be present to explain the bill, and continued: "That while the said bill embraces many admirable features, with the lights before us we cannot endorse the same. We recommend to the members of this association that they give the bill careful study so that at the proper time and season they will be prepared to give expression to their convictions on the subject."

It was thought last night that the Fowler bill would be condemned by resolution. The abandonment of days of grace on commercial paper was strongly urged as was also the repeal or a revision of the national bankruptcy law.

Upon the adjournment of the Interstate convention, which will probably meet next year in Asheville, N. C., the State associations held meetings and elected officers. Those for the North Carolina Association were: President, G. W. Montcastle, Lexington; vice presidents, W. N. Burgwyne, Weldon; W. L. Parsons, Pee Dee; Lee H. Battle, Greensboro; secretary and treasurer, C. N. Evans, Charlotte; delegate to American Bankers' convention, J. F. Burton, Wilson.
